To open a new THPRD account

Create an Account

For you to enjoy any of our hundreds of classes, programs, camps and activities, we must first create your account in THPRD's registration database.

This is necessary for all in-district and out-of-district participants, and it takes just a few easy steps.

Step 1: Fill out our Registrant Information Form

You can find a copy of this form in our activities guide, pick one up at any THPRD center, or print a copy here. For your convenience, an online option will soon be available.

Step 2: Visit any THPRD facility (online applicants may skip to step 3)

Visit our administration office, or any park district facility, to complete the application process. Please bring the following:

- Your completed Registrant Information Form
- Any government-issued photo ID that includes your current address (for example, an Oregon Driver's license, Oregon Identification Card, Consular Identification Card).

Step 3: Obtain your THPRD Identification Card

If you're applying in person: Our staff will enter your account information into our database and hand you a temporary card with your THPRD identification number. If you're applying online: Your THPRD identification number will be provided when you complete the application.

(Once you have your THPRD identification number: you can now begin registering for classes! A laminated THPRD Identification Card will be mailed to your home address.)

To register for classes:

- Use your THPRD identification number to login to <myTHPRD>.
- Click on "I'm New" to begin using the online registration system.

THPRD reserves the right to verify residency at any time; addresses must be verified every five years. Your card's expiration date can be found by logging into the myTHPRD registration portal. The replacement charge for lost cards is $5.

Step 4: Verify residency (for online applicants only)

If you did not complete this step in person during step 2 (above), THPRD must verify your residency.

Before your first scheduled class or league, or after no more than five drop-in activities, please show any government-issued photo ID that includes your current address (for example, an Oregon Driver's license, Oregon Identification Card, Consular Identification Card).

If you cannot verify your residency, you may opt to pay the out-of-district rate or request a prorated refund for your class.

Why do we verify your address?

People who own property or reside within THPRD's boundaries support our services through property taxes and are eligible for benefits that include early registration and lower program costs.

Not a resident?

You are still welcome to enjoy every program and activity the district has to offer. In fact, it's never been easier for non-residents to participate in THPRD programs.

Three options are available to patrons who live outside of THPRD's service area.

1. Apply for voluntary annexation
2. Pay a yearly or quarterly assessment
3. Pay a 25% per-activity premium

Summer Camps

Camp Rivendale, Jenkins Estate

503-629-6342

Camp Rivendale is a summer day camp program providing recreational opportunities for children and adults who have physical, emotional and/or developmental disabilities.

Camp Rivendale is divided into four subgroups: Chipmunks, A-Team, Wilderness and Adult. Chipmunks is for campers ages 6-12 who have physical and/or developmental disabilities. A-Team is for campers ages 13-21 who have physical and/or developmental disabilities. Wilderness is for campers ages 6-21 and is designed to meet the needs of campers who demonstrate maladaptive behavior as a primary condition of their disability. Chipmunks, A-Team and Wilderness each run for 8 weeks (late June through mid-August). Appropriate program placement of each camper is determined by staff.

Two adult weeks (for persons 22 and older) are added to the end of the summer session (mid-late August).

Campers are encouraged to explore areas of music, dance, drama, visual arts, sports and aquatics. Through this process, our goal is to contribute to the physical, mental and social growth of each camper. Staff and volunteers foster peer relations, which allow campers to share affection, support and companionship. We also strive to develop community support and encourage attitude changes to reflect dignity, self-respect and independence for individuals with disabilities. In addition to daily camp activities, campers will take field trips and off-site excursions.

Registration accepted by walk-in, mail-in and email only. Please visit www.thprd.org/camprivendale for an application or call 503-629-6342.
